

ADRIAN'S SONG

Do you remember a time, when love was sweeter?
When your face would shine each time you heard them speak
I don't believe that it's fine, to walk away from
What's yours and is mine, it's time to love sweetly again

Babe the grass is greener every time you're around
I'm so full of flowers my heart is ready ground, and
Babe to hear you laughing, it is the sweetest sound to me

Can you believe what's been done, to hearts and daisies
There's just no more fun, we've begun to fall out of touch
I don't believe it was meant to grow so dreary, cos
Love's Heaven-sent, and i'm bent on being loved like Helen of Troy

Babe the grass is greener every time you're around
I'm so full of flowers my heart is ready ground, and
Babe to hear you laughing, it is the sweetest sound to me

Back in the day when our hearts would play and there was time to dream
I still believe in Adam & Eve and everything in between Cos girl meets boy was created for joy and there's just not much of that today
These battle scars have touched the stars, i'm calling on a new day
Do you remember a time, when love was sweeter?
When your face would shine each time you heard them speak
I don't believe that it's fine, to walk away from
What's yours and is mine, it's time to love sweetly again
