

ABOVE THE BAR

I find it hard to recognize
Any trace of sadness in your eyes
And every time they raise the bar
I'm so relieved that you know who you are

And you should take this all and lift it higher
I'll be smiling, oh baby at the wave you're riding
Cos you're enabled more than any other
I'm beside you, I am with you as you make that breakthrough

The view's much clearer from your shoulder
And I feel nearer to the joy that's risen
I hear you laugh as I grow bolder
And this is how i know i've made the right decision

And you should take this all and lift it higher
I'll be smiling, oh baby at the wave you're riding
Cos you're enabled more than any other
I'm beside you, I am with you as you make that breakthrough

And you may try to fall away
Cos you've been overwhelmed with what they have to say
But you would not get very far
Cos i would find you to remind you of just who you are

And you should take this all and lift it higher
I'll be smiling, oh baby at the wave you're riding
Cos you're enabled more than any other
I'm beside you, I am with you as you make that breakthrough

I find it hard to recognize
Any trace of sadness in your eyes
And every time they raise the bar
I'm so relieved that you know who you are
