

YELLOW BRICK ROAD

Don't let your greed mislead you
Cos a broken hand can't feed you Don't make a show of sharing
Cos I think you know, just how far you will go, and it's quite a thing
To bring back the yellow brick road from the beaten track
I think I'll follow the scarecrow and give him my hand
Cos i believe in a mind that is eager to find a new way

Don't let another love affair ensnare you
But don't you let true love scare you
Cos you're more alive when you're in danger
Of being recognized by a stranger
And it's quite a thing, to bring back, the yellow brick road from the beaten track
I think I'll stand with the tin man and give him my heart
He only wanted to know love and not fall apart on his way

Somewhere over the rainbow, I hear you sing
If i fly over the rainbow would you take me under your wing

Don't be a friend of your fury and don't make a chum of your glum
And don't defend a drunken jury,
Cos the answers lie in Kingdom come
And it's quite a thing to bring back the yellow brick road from the
beaten track
I think I'll lie down with the Lion and call myself a lamb
Cos there's protection in resurrection and I believe in Aslan

Somewhere over the rainbow, I hear you sing
If I fly over the rainbow would you take me under your wing? (x2)
