

GLOWING ON THE WATER

I'm glowing on the water...And speaking out my mind
I really think we oughta...Forget how to rewind Because the hand that chose to move you...is opening your eyes
To the things we've left unspoken...and the power of the lies

And I know where I'm going now, but the compass you gave me got broken somehow, and I know that I will forget even this on that day that you wake me with that confident kiss. Till then...

I'm glowing on the water...And speaking out my mind
Just wanna be your daughter...in the way that you designed Because your mark's already made here...upon each beat in every chest
And as we all draw near...our every cursed becomes a blessed

And I'd like to believe...that when my heart's on my sleeve, that I'm free...but the way that it leads, causes my heart to bleed till I can't see....

free...but the way that it leads, causes my heart to bleed till I can't see

It's a good thing that you're Walking on the water...and speaking out your mind You were the lamb brought to the slaughter...you are the love we want defined.

Oh...use us all sweet Jesus...we wanna see you lifted high Above all kings and ceasars...until your heart ignites the sky...
